www.cabinteelyparish.ie

2014 & 2015

WELCOME

Welcome to the Directory of our local Christian community. Whether you have lived here for many years, have recently moved or visiting you are currently part of a vibrant, welcoming and caring faith community.

The Directory is presented as a way of trying to give you helpful information and a sense of belonging with us. It is also an invitation to become involved at some level in the life of the parish community and to use your talents in the service of others.

This 2014 & 2015 edition of our Parish Directory is an update of previous editions. We expect that it will be revised every two years in the future. The Parish website at www.cabinteelyparish.ie will always contain the most recent information on parish activities. If you know of any group/activity which has been omitted or you have ideas or suggestions for improving the Directory, please let us know.

Wishing you and those dear to you every blessing.

Fr Arthur O'Neill

THE PARISH AND ITS HISTORY

St. Brigid's Parish, Cabinteely is one of 200 in the Archdiocese of Dublin. For purposes of administration the Archdiocese is divided into 16 Deaneries. St. Brigid's belongs to the Bray Deanery, together with parishes in Bray, Balally, Foxrock, Loughlinstown, Ballybrack, Greystones, Sandyford, Johnstown, Shankill, Enniskerry and Kilquade.

The parish is centred in St. Brigid's Parish church, located in Cabinteely Village with a Mass Centre located in St. Brigid's Girls Primary School in Cabinteely Park.

Cabinteely was a place name which first came into use in the second half of the seventeenth century and probably evolved from the name of a popular tavern or pub known as CabántSile or Sheila's Cabin. Records show that a small humble chapel dedicated to St. Brigid in the small village growing up around "Sheila's Cabin" established Cabinteely as the centre of Catholic worship for a huge surrounding area from Blackrock to Bray for many generations.

This "parish" arrangement survived through the seventeenth century penal laws and further religious persecution. Before the first St. Michael's Church was built in Dún Laoghaire the people of that area made the long walk to Cabinteely on Sundays and Holy days. Older residents of the area will remember "The Mass Walk", a common right of way through what is now Watson housing estate, which the faithful from Ballybrack and Killiney used on their way to mass in Cabinteely.

On the 10th October 1836, Archbishop Murray opened the present church in Cabinteely Village. The 175th anniversary of this historic event was celebrated in 2011. This church (which replaced the old eighteenth century chapel) reflected the historical context in which it was constructed i.e. a church struggling to re-assert itself soon after Catholic Emancipation in 1829 following centuries of suppression. The plain, rectangular structure is very much more in keeping with the eighteenth century penal chapel it replaced than the great neo-gothic edifices so characteristic of the second half of the nineteenth century. Unaffected by the radically altered environment surrounding it, St. Brigid's retains the character of a small rural church but in a modern suburban setting.

At an earlier time Cabinteely was part of Kingstown (modern day Dún Laoghaire) Parish. On a number of occasions in the second half of the nineteenth century Cabinteely was affiliated to different parishes e.g. in 1870 Cardinal Cullen placed Cabinteely in the parish of Ballybrack.

In 1917 a Father Ryan of Booterstown was appointed Parish Priest. He chose, however, to live in Foxrock where he built a temporary tin church for local residents. Subsequently in 1934, he built the present Foxrock Church. He was made Canon and continued to live in Foxrock, leaving a curate in the parochial house in Cabinteely. The parish was then known as Cabinteely/Foxrock.

Each parish, while still distinct, tries to offer its witness and service in tandem with the other two, so as to avoid duplication. Each parish retains its own Pastoral Council, its financial arrangements and parish activities, but the concept of the Pastoral Area Group has all of us working in closer co-operation. There are regular tri-parish meetings to ensure the sharing of services that complement rather than compete with each other.

This present parish directory contains all of the mass and service times for Cabinteely, Foxrock and Johnstown parishes together with appropriate contact addresses and phone numbers. Please feel free to contact any of us should you wish for further information.

In 1971 Foxrock was designated a parish in its own right, independent of Cabinteely. Three years later a new parish was established in Johnstown/Killiney.

Pastoral Area Group

At this point 39 years later the clear boundaries of our three parishes are being blurred somewhat so as to witness to our shared service to the people of the area. A "Pastoral Area Group" has been established which is a recognition of the well-established cooperative relationship that has existed for many years between these areas.

PARISH VISION STATEMENT

Cabinteely Parish is a Christian Faith Community that:

- Welcomes all...
- Encourages participation...
- Is spiritually vibrant...

We aim to be a parish that:

- Initiates, facilitates and supports social engagement and spiritual growth for all members of the community
- Is recognised for its standards of community, belief and practice.

We will achieve this through:

- Improved physical infrastructure and effective communication
- Active involvement of the entire community and neighbouring parishes in delivering pastoral & community services
- Planned activities that will provide the opportunity for people to get involved and come together.

We aim to:

- Respect...the unique value of each person
- Encourage...participation & involvement
- Support... social & spiritual development
- Be Christ-like... in expression & experience

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

We will prepare practically as well as spiritually for the impact of the changing role of priests within the Community in the changing socio-economic Irish society.

This will need:

- To take account of the reduction in the number of priests.
- Increased support from the community to voluntarily assist in the day to day of the Parish.
- Parish Management including finances and the servicing of the Parish Debt.
- Partnership with our neighbouring parishes of Foxrock and Johnstown.
- Development of a Pastoral Area Group (PAG) with local Parishes as in the existing tri-parish initiative/project already underway in Foxrock, Johnstown and Cabinteely.

What is the Parish Pastoral Council?

PARISH FINANCE COMMITTEE

MEMBERS

Fr. Arthur O'Neill, Mr. Diarmuid Murray, Ms. Elizabeth Murphy, Ms. Frances McLoughlin.

The Finance Committee manages the income and expenditure of the Parish. They meet on a regular basis and produce an annual report which is made available to parishioners.

The Family Offering

The family offering is the only regular source of funds for the operation and development of our rapidly expanding parish.

Contributions can be made by Bank Standing Order, by monthly envelope or by means of a half yearly or yearly contribution.

Other Parish Income

The Parish also receives some income through the sponsorship of specific expenses, e.g. the newsletter, through advertising in the newsletter and directory, and from donations and bequests.

Parishioners might consider including a bequest to the Parish when making or amending their wills.

Diocesan Collections

All other collections are gathered centrally by the Diocese.

The first collection at Sunday Masses, together with the Christmas and Easter Offerings (Dues) from all parishes in the Diocese, are gathered centrally and used to pay a salary to the priests of this parish, those priests ministering in poorer parishes and retired priests.

The second (Share) collection provides financial support to parishes that are not financially self-sufficient.

The Parish Centre

The Centre has quickly become the focal point of many Parish and community activities. Much remains to be done to ensure that the Centre is fully occupied and that all parish and community groups avail of its first class facilities. While now virtually self-financing, the debt incurred on the construction of the Centre will continue for several years to come, requiring a constant effort and attention from the Finance Committee.

MISSIONARY OUTREACH

Since 2005 St. Brigid's Parish has been partnered with the Diocese of Kitui in Kenya and to date has helped to provide funding for emergency food and supplies. Funds have also been raised for the building of a new 480 student St. Michael's boarding school and to provide education for many of the young people of the diocese. A number of children sponsored by our parishioners have completed University, and received their degrees in November.

Pupils in Mombasa say "thank you" for their new school

The Parish has more recently extended its involvement to assist Fr. Nicky Hennity, an Irish priest who lives with the people he is trying to help in a very deprived area of Mombasa in Kenya. The parish has assisted in the construction of a new local school for in the area.

Efforts are being made to raise funds for these and many other charities through a website www.giveandbuy.ie where people can offer their surplus goods and/or their services for sale with the proceeds going to these projects or to the charity of their choice.

THE GRAINSTORE DLR YOUTH ARTS CENTRE

The Grainstore, located at the centre of Cabinteely Park was an initiative of the local community which was formally opened in November 1999. In September 2008 its management was taken over by the Arts Office, Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown County Council. Significant renovations and refurbishments have taken place in the building since then. It is now a picturesque building for youth groups to actively engage in the Arts and a very valuable asset to hundreds of young people around the county and further afield.

The Grainstore includes a multipurpose hall for dancing, exhibitions, performances etc, a workshop space, a rehearsal room, a music tuition/film room, an artist studio, a reception area, an office and an outdoor performance space. Currently the facility hosts art classes, musical rehearsals, band rehearsals, music tuition classes, films and artist residencies.

For further information please contact the Arts Office at 2719531 or email arts@dlrcoco.ie or go to www.dlrcoco.ie/arts.
